The meeting will be followed by a complimentary light lunch.

The Grower Summit will provide a rare opportunity to meet with senior managers from key grain buyers and organisations supporting the Cool Soil Initiative (CSI) in our region.

This includes;

- Kellogg's: Chris Stevens (Director, Global Agribusiness) & Alicia Doherty (Senior Manager, Corporate Communications)
- Allied Pinnacle: Robyn Murray (General Manager, Innovation)
- Mars Petcare: Paul Scoullar (Strategic Sourcing Manager)
- AgriSci: Cassandra Scheffe (National Project Leader)
- CSU: Jonathan Medway (Spatial Agriculture specialist)
- Food Agility CRC: Majella Nolan

Program

- Discussion of CSI 2020 season results, with a focus on what we have learnt, what the data is showing and what it means
- Progression; next steps and program growth
- Trends in greenhouse gas emissions and soil carbon values; What have we got and what does it mean?
- Understanding the role of different practices in supporting sustainable systems
- Horsch Tiger paddock demonstration
- Mulching vs stubble vs burning demonstration trial & discussion

A Horsch Tiger demonstration will take place on the day

This is also a great opportunity to invite your agronomist along to learn about the program and contribute ideas on how we can continue to farm sustainably.

Due to COVID regulations, RSVP's are essential. For further information, or to RSVP by Thursday 11 March, 2021, please contact Jane McInnes at the Riverine Plains office on 03 5744 1713 or email jane@riverineplains.org.au.
